Laptop Got Wet?

What to do in the first hour.

We Make I.T. Happen!™

1 Power It Off Immediately

Hold the power button down, or pull the battery if you can; don't just close the lid.

2 Don't Turn It Back On to Check

That's the single most common mistake people make after a spill.

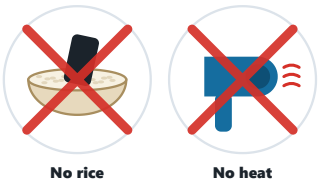

3 Unplug It

No charger, no power source, while you figure out next steps.

4 Skip the Rice and Hair Dryer

Neither one actually helps, and heat can make things worse.

5 Don't Shake or Tilt It

That can actually spread liquid to parts it hadn't reached yet.

6 Pat the Outside Dry

Just the outside; don't try to open it up or dry the inside yourself.

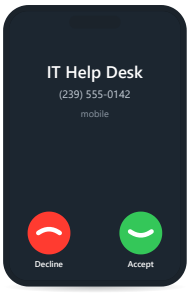

7 Bring It In the Same Day

Waiting gives liquid more time to cause damage inside.

8 Get a Free Diagnostic

We'll check it and let you know what we find before doing anything.

Good to Know

- Damage can show up days later, so it's worth getting checked even if it seems fine at first.
- Data backed up before repairs when the repair could affect it.
